SUMMARY

This White Paper is the single legal document presented to the public in connection with the Initial Coin Offering of CO coin.

The CO coin stands for Project Investment Fund. This fund is backed by an already functioning online stores: Check-Coin and Max5Dollars.

Our aim is not to convince you that we are crafting something genius, like many ICOs declare. In fact, unlike the majority of other ICO campaigns, we already have a real working project.

The idea of CO coin Initial Coin Offering (ICO) is to raise capital, which we'll use to creating an online casino and investing in properties in selected tourist destinations, as well as popularize and promote the Brand). After we have completed all these steps, we expect a large increase in users. As a result, we will share 80% of Cryptocurrency-Organizer net profits with our CO coin holders on a yearly basis. As simple as that. Buying CO coin from our ICO will enable Investors to participate in an existing and moneymaking business that is at the beginning of a long-term, sustainable growth.

INVESTMENT IN TOURISM

The geographic focus is Croatia, Albania, Greece, Bulgaria, Montenegro, Serbia and Romania.

Tourism is an interdisciplinary branch that builds economic and ecological connections, and creates social benefits. Worldwide the tourism sector offers employment to over 292 000 000 people according to the World Travel and Tourism Council (WTTC) and on European level over 10 million are employed in the tourism sector. According to Eurostat, 65% of tourists travel independently (with own or rented vehicles), and choose to stop in several spots or chose an active vacation, which is a good opportunity for the Balkan region to offer a unique and unified destination.

Tourism and agriculture are the largest potential sectors for economic growth across the Balkan countries. While tourism constitutes a growing source of revenue for the Balkan countries, much of that growth has been fueled by domestic demand and cheap package tourism, often with adverse environmental effects. The potential for developing scaled up, regional initiatives and sustainable tourism products that can celebrate Balkan diversity remains under-explored. The region is an emerging destination and tourism is new to most of the countries in the region. Sustainable development of tourism needs infrastructural and communication programs and connection of the tourism sectors between countries, before rapid economic development and recognition and affirmation of the region can be achieved.

The Balkan region can offer many different experiences from gastronomy, to natural and cultural heritage, traditions, hospitality, historical sites, impressive coastlines and so much more.

The region lies at a crossroads, where empires met, fought and combined to form a kaleidoscope of cultures unique in Europe, left their own indelible mark on the local architecture, cuisine, languages, music and traditions. In Balkans one finds Medieval Orthodox monasteries, Renaissance Catholic churches, mosques and minarets standing together within the same city walls. The aroma of local food from the bazaars testifies to the fusion of East and West, while the region's eclectic music and dance celebrate this rich heritage.

The length of of Greece and Croatia coast lines is derived from the large number of islands (Bramwell 2004). A developed tourist infrastructure is set in motion in the coastal regions of the Balkan Peninsula;

Mountain tourism covering winter sports, active holidays, cycling etc.. Mountain tourism developed by the countries of the Balkan Peninsula, is explained by the large number of mountains, of which the most important are: Dinaric Mountains, Shar Planina, Pindos, Stara Planina, Rhodope, etc. The highest peaks of the Balkans are Musala in the Rila mountain 2925 meters above sea level, then Mitikas top of Mount Olympus and the 2,917 m peak of Mount Pirin, Vihren with 2914 m above sea level. There are numerous ski resorts located in the mountains;

The rich cultural and historical heritage of the Balkan countries is a great opportunity to develop this kind of tourism. Urban centers provide an opportunity to develop this kind of tourism;

Business tourism and conference tourism which covers journeys arising directly because of work responsibilities or indirectly in carrying out activities related to work. Also, this form of tourism includes travel for corporate or organizational meetings, conventions, congresses and incentives trips (used by companies as a means to reward their best employees). ## INVESTMENT IN TOURISM

Rural tourism involving visiting rural areas. Local gastronomy, traditional crafts, hospitality and specific architecture of the villages offer good prospects for development of rural tourism in the Balkans. Territories of the Balkan countries in biggest part belong to the rural classification and this kind of tourism began to develop in the last two decades;

Health and spa tourism which includes the use of various health services, treatments to improve the health, stay spas, using various massage techniques and more. Due to lower the costs of health services and the availability of thermal mineral waters, most of the Balkan countries have successfully developed this kind of tourism.

Aside of the most common tourist products, Balkan countries additionally create and develop other types of tourism such as: sports, golf, active, eco, hunting, religious, wine, lake, river, etc.

CONCLUSION

Tourism is a success story of the present day and the expectations are that it will maintain its continuous and positive level of development in the coming years. Forecasts are moving in a direction that the European continent, in which the Balkan countries are located, within the next 20 years, will be the most evident source of consumer demand and the development of international tourism in the world.

The main objective of this part of the project is investing in holiday homes, hotels, restaurants, pubs and stores in the selected countries.
